Surrender to WIN!..

Do you have the courage to stop fighting with yourself, other people, situations and life as it IS.!??

Courage is the cutting edge of Love. Where you have the courage to face your fear and live On Purpose anyway, you are filled with Freedom, Power and Inspiration.

Each time you choose Purpose over fear, you have surrendered the opportunity to be a victim. Instead you have chosen to live creatively as your True Self. The Essence of your Creative Self will show you the next move to make... decisions seem to be given to you under the dominion of your Higher Self.

When you surrender all resistance and every fear in every form, there is nothing left but the guiding Light of your Essence. It shines on you, in you and through you. You do not need anything but This Moment unfolding as it Is.

You might of heard the saying, "it is as it is". Some add and it is not any other way. It is the resistance to what is that causes suffering. In any situation there is two foundational choices.

1. We can resist and push against what is in life. As we do what we resist persists. It gets stronger from us pushing against it.
2. We can accept what is as is it. As we do this we are free to meet it On Purpose.

When we resist yourself, and any of our fears or desires, it is impossible to meet the moment with the full Power of Purpose.

When we accept the Freedom, Power and Inspiration from knowing our Creative Self flows infinitely.

Try this week to remember Surrender to WIN. After all you are only giving up the opportunity to be a victim... You gain the Freedom to live and Love On Purpose with whatever comes across your path!

Surrender to WIN. Win the Freedom, Power and Inspiration to give your Gift, live your Purpose and build the Vision you have of a better self and world, no matter what!
